

BIOGRAPHY

NIEVES ROSELL

Nieves Rosell is an Argentine singer, songwriter, and producer based in São Paulo, Brazil.

With a career rooted in jazz and Latin American music, she has performed in Brazil and Argentina at jazz clubs, festivals, theaters, and other cultural venues. She has worked as a singer and guitarist on international cruise ships and performed seasonal music engagements in Bahia, Brazil, for several years.

Her repertoire includes samba jazz, bossa nova, boleros, and original compositions.

In 2024, she released the single Cassia, featuring her own music and lyrics by Adrián Abonizio. The track was produced in São Paulo by musician and producer Lisandro Massa and recorded with Iury Batista and Carlos Bala.

That same year, in Buenos Aires, she recorded the album Boleros, featuring new interpretations of classics from the genre. The album was produced by Daniel Maza and features special guest appearance by Uruguayan guitarist Leonardo Amuedo.

As a producer, she organized the first edition of the Boleros Festival in Rosario, Argentina.

She is currently working on new compositions and musical collaborations with Argentine and Brazilian artists.

She also coordinates the Voice and Artistic Development Laboratory, dedicated to vocal training and the artistic development of singers.
